Employee Benefits
As an employee of the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP), we hope you recognize the importance of your work on behalf of the nation’s children. You help play a critical role in providing our members and volunteers with the tools and assistance they need to ensure all children receive the highest quality care.

As we strive to achieve this mission, the AAP firmly recognizes that its employees are one of its most important and valuable resources. In an effort to assist you with your work, we have tried to design an employee benefit program that addresses both your professional and personal needs. This extensive and comprehensive program provides eligible employees with a broad range of benefits. It is our sincere hope that these benefits provide you with some of the security and balance you need to support the AAP mission and our most enduring legacy, the children.
