

Hospital Pediatrics®

Hospital Pediatrics Editorial Fellow

Designed to enable trainees in residency or fellowship training to experience the workings of the journal as well as editorial management and planning.

Responsibilities

Trainees will participate in monthly staff and editorial board conference calls.

Participate in working with the executive editorial board members in all aspects of the editorial process / workflow of the journal.

Participate in journal activities and potentially suggest new innovations to enhance the journal.

Assist associate and assistant editors in their specific duties or sections of the journal.
Able to function in this role from home institution through virtual conference calls.
Attend the Hospital Pediatrics annual Editorial Board meeting.

Solicit advice, ideas and opinions from peers and colleagues regarding journal policy, direction, product, and design.

Qualifications

Students, residents, or fellows currently enrolled in a postgraduate training program, including early career junior faculty