

Video Transcript: What is a family advisory group and how does a practice start one?

Created by the National Center for Medical Home Implementation, a cooperative agreement between the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Maternal and Child Health Bureau, Health Resources and Services Administration.

Blue background with title: What is a family advisory group and how does a practice start one?

Brad Thompson, MA, Licensed Counselor for the Hali Project is interviewed.

BRAD THOMPSON: As I define or understand a family advisory group—it's a group of parents or family members who help the medical home team figure out some things that make the practice either more accessible, more family friendly those types of issues. I think we can get a lot more out of our families than just answering those questions by allowing them to be engaged and so like I said before some of those non-medical pieces of the medical home.

White screen with text: For more information visit www.medicalhomeinfo.org

Fades to the National Center for Medical Home Implementation Logo.

Video Link: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2ED6d09kv_c